

We heard a man remark the other day that even if he knew incorporation was good, he would vote against it. That is not a fair statement and we believe it was made in jest, but jokes over so serious an issue are not good. We believe that the matter should be given more than passing consideration. It is worthy of sound thinking. The issue may determine the entire future of Truckee, and Truckee after all is no more and no less than what we make it. Incorporation means one thing—cooperation—and it is extremely difficult for us to survive, either in Truckee or elsewhere, without a certain amount of help and cooperation from our neighbors. We firmly believe, and can cite hundreds of examples upon which our belief is based, that any community can go farther and do better more economically under incorporation. During recent years our system of monetary regulation in government has altered materially. Political subdivisions now participate in the allocation of state funds, each receiving its share from various collections made by the state. That is a good system if we are a political subdivision, otherwise it gives us only a minimum return for our taxes, licenses and fees. If we feel that we are not capable of governing ourselves and cannot depend upon the men we select to capably manage our affairs and be businesslike in their administration of our money and laws, then we perhaps should avoid incorporation. However, we honestly believe that any five men chosen by the majority of the people of Truckee through an election are not the type who will cause us trouble, but will work harmoniously with the electors toward creating a better community. Regardless of what action we take Tuesday, we are going to be regulated by laws. If the proposition loses these laws will continue to be administered by men who are not as close to Truckee as those men whose names have been proposed as councilmen. It is only reasonable to assume that men and women, whose entire interests are centered in Truckee will be more capable, and if not more sincere, at least more personal, in their adoption and administration of ordinances pertaining to the community. There are so many things which would be possible to make this a better town under incorporation which are now impossible, that we urge you to give ample thought to your vote Tuesday. Don't vote against incorporation just because you are against it. Know the facts, or as many of them as you can, and go to the polls determined that your action in casting your ballot is serving the best interests of your home and your town. Consider the thousands of towns and cities in the United States which are incorporated. Compare them with unincorporated areas. Reason the matter thoroughly and then vote as your conscience dictates.

Two Of Three Bodies Found After Tragedy

Explosion and Fire Cause Disaster on Lake Tahoe

Mute evidence of the tragedy which cost three lives on Lake Tahoe Saturday afternoon was revealed when two of the bodies were washed ashore near Homewood, across the lake from where the accident occurred. The bodies of 12-year-old Donald Brodehl and Everett Dolan, 10, mail clerk, were found after hundreds of searchers from the shore, boats and in planes had scoured the entire lake.

It is believed that a strong wind which prevailed Monday caused the bodies, both in life preservers, to float to the west side of the lake. The body of Arthur Brodehl, 34, has not been recovered.

Charred portions of the ill-fated Marion B. mail boat piloted by Brodehl, gave evidence that an explosion and fire likely caused the breakup of the ship between Glenbrook and Brockway last Saturday afternoon. One of the two motors in the 36-foot boat was disabled when they left Glenbrook. It is thought that Brodehl left the boat to steer the craft while he went into the engine room to try to get the motor started. The mail clerk, no doubt, was in his small office room sorting mail at the time of the disaster. The boat was said to have had previous trouble and was not in the best shape.

If this is true, Brodehl probably did not have time to don his life preserver and may have gone down with the craft. In that event his body may probably never be found.

The boy's body was found by William Arnold of Homewood Monday. Constable Harry Johanson then organized a search and soon found the body of the mail clerk who was making his second trip around the lake. It was evident that both had died of exposure, as the lungs were empty.

The unusual feature of the tragedy was that none of the three on board the Marion B. care to make the trip. The weather was not favorable and each seemed to have a premonition of impending danger.

Brodehl leaves his wife and two daughters. The dead boy was his step son.

Dolan's mother lives in New York. Coroner Francis West came up from Colfax Monday to take charge of the bodies.

The sympathy of the entire region is extended to the surviving relatives of the victims of the worst tragedy on the lake in many years.

OFFICERS CALLED IN TO LOOK FOR LOCAL WIFE GONE 2 WEEKS

Sheriff Carl Toblissen and federal bureau of investigation officers have been asked to assist in the search for Mrs. Robert B. Tonini, 28, who disappeared under mysterious circumstances here on May 9.

Deputy Sheriff N. F. Doley and friends of the missing woman exhausted every clue which might lead to finding her. Wires were sent to relatives in Michigan and Ely, Nev., but she had not been heard from there.

Fears that she has met with foul play persist with the lack of evidence. Mrs. Tonini left her home on a shopping tour nearly two weeks ago. Her movements were traced here until she was reported to have been seen entering a car bearing an Indiana license plate about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. She was attired only in her street clothes without a hat and could not have had more than a few cents on her person.

She is described as being five feet three inches tall, weighs about 123 pounds, and has dark hair, quite grey. No martial trouble preceded her disappearance.

Contests Loom in Both School Board Elections

Mrs. Bert T. Weeden has announced that she will be candidate for election to the trusteeship of the Truckee Elementary School district. The election will be held June 6 at the grammar school building. The only other candidate is Mrs. Dan D. Smith, who seeks reelection.

In announcing her candidacy, Mrs. Weeden said that she was interested in the welfare of the local school in view of the fact that she has a son in the lower grades and also because she is interested in the development of the school's standards.

Mrs. Lotta Bryant, clerk of the high school board, said that W. F. Wilkie, Jr., and Mrs. Estelle Thomas have both filed to fill the seat now held by the latter on the school's governing board. Wilkie is at present a life-long resident and taxpayer and a member of Truckee Public Utility District Board. Mrs. Thomas is a local housewife with a son in school. She was appointed to the board to fill a vacancy.

Attorneys Tell Benefits From Incorporation

Speakers Show Truckee Is In Need of Local Government

Speaking before a group of interested citizens at the grammar school auditorium Tuesday night, W. E. Wright, former Nevada County district attorney and prominent in the state bar, explained issues pertaining to the proposed incorporation of Truckee and answered questions on the subject.

Ward Sheldon, another Nevada City attorney, also spoke briefly on the timely subject and cleared up several questions of importance.

"I cannot conceive or understand why you should object to incorporation," Wright declared in addressing the group, "unless you want someone else to run your business."

He pointed out many advantages, explaining the fact that allocations of moneys from the state through liquor licenses and gas tax as well as in lieu tax would comprise a substantial revenue for the city and that taxes, limited by state law, should be a very small item.

The speaker stressed the need for local government if the district is to progress and urged the voters to consider seriously the benefits compared to any real or fancied objections. Protection to local merchants and other businessmen through a regulated license system, he declared, would provide a source of revenue and at the same time tend to eliminate unfair competition from peddlers and seasonal vendors.

Wright said that he had always favored incorporation for Truckee so that the citizens here could govern themselves as they wished.

C. B. White, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee on incorporation, presided at the meeting and read letters from city officials at Colfax and Loyalton which gave conclusive evidence that these towns, comparable in size to Truckee, had received many advantages from their self-government.

Election Next Tuesday

The election will be held next Tuesday at the grammar school and it is expected that a record vote will be cast. A majority is sufficient to carry the proposition. Voters will write in names of five councilmen, a clerk and one treasurer, aside from voting for or against incorporation.

:-Loyalton and Colfax Both Very Well Satisfied With Incorporation:-

Current reports that towns comparable to Truckee in size are dissatisfied with incorporation are answered in the two replies to inquiries to determine whether or not there was any foundation for such reports.

The answers speak for themselves. From Loyalton comes this letter:

Mr. C. B. White,
Truckee, Calif.

Dear Sir:

I will state in answer to your inquiry about the people of Loyalton, being dissatisfied relative to incorporation, I think that if you got the true opinion of the people here you would have at least ten to one for incorporation. It doesn't matter how good anything is or how well it works you will always find a minority who are not satisfied. Loyalton has been an incorporated city (sixth class) since Sept. 7, 1901. Surely if the people desired to disincorporate they would have done so in that length of time.

The main thing I think of an incorporated city is the fact that you have charge of your own municipal affairs. For instance, we maintain our own police department, fire department, street maintenance, etc. We had a municipal election to put in a new water system for the city and it carried by a vote of 239 favoring and 38 against. So you see that we had a very favorable majority. We do all of this on a tax levy in the city of ninety five cents per $100 assessed valuation. I understand that Downieville (an unincorporated city) has a water and light district and maintenance for fire dept. for which the people pay a special assessment of $1.20 per $100 of assessed value.

So you can see we maintain our whole government on an assessment of 25 cents less than they are taxed.

I will give you some of the data from our last year's statement:

Receipts
City taxes	$1,463.18
Business licenses	1,090.00
State liquor licenses	651.25
(5 establishments)
State gas tax	1,540.00
In lieu tax	612.53
(car licenses, etc.)
Misc. Receipts	363.47
Delinquent tax	10.46
Total receipts	$5,730.89
Bal. on hand 7-1-39	1,341.01
	$7,571.90
Total expenditures	4,812.32
Bal. on hand 7-1-40	$2,759.58
I will state the large balance we have left was in a street fund we had accumulated from the gas tax money over a period of two years for some special street work.

I trust this little data I have been able to give you will be of some assistance to you in your new venture.

One more thing, I will say that during Mr. Lombardi's years as mayor of the City of Loyalton, we have never closed our books in the red. Mr. Lombardi has been mayor since Sept. 1910. There is no reason why any city under proper management and budgeting cannot keep within its limits.

Wishing you success in your new venture, I am,

Yours truly,

D. M. Martin, City Clerk.

Then from Colfax came this reply from Dr. Robert A. Peers, mayor of the City of Colfax:

Mr. C. B. White,
Truckee, California.

My dear Mr. White:

I am just in receipt of your letter of May 14th in which you state that a report has been circulated that the people of Colfax are now very sorry they incorporated and would like to disincorporate.

This is news to me. There never has been, at any time since incorporating, a movement looking toward disincorporating and I feel perfectly satisfied that at no time in the City's history has there been as many as 10 per cent of the people who would wish to disincorporate.

The incorporation of the City of Colfax has been a very splendid thing for this community. Immediately following incorporation we installed a modern sewer system and septic tank. A few years later we paved the main highway through town. Since that time numerous other streets have been paved and many additional improvements carried out. All of these things would have been delayed many years had it not been for incorporation. Contrary to the report which you have heard I might say that it is many years since I have heard even a single citizen raise objection to the action by which this community became a City.

Personally I know nothing about your problems in Truckee nor about the arguments for or against incorporation. If, however, you do incorporate and reap only 25 per cent of the benefit which has come to Colfax the action will be well worth while. Hoping that you are in good health and with kind personal regards, I am

Very sincerely,
RAP:W Robert A. Peers, Mayor.

LET THE PRESSES ROLL!

In the early days of America freedom of speech was rightly considered the primary safeguard of liberty. In that era it was in the town hall that freedom was guarded and preserved. But later on, as the United States became a nation of many millions of people, a free press became more vital for each newspaper became the voice of its community—a voice capable of making itself heard even in a complex civilization and a country of vast distances.

These two fundamental rights of our land—freedom of speech and a free press—have protected all our other rights; they have shielded us from tyranny in a storm-swept world where tyranny seems on the ascendancy. And whether we newspaper publishers, or newspaper readers who depend on a free press to keep close tab on public affairs, we all have reason to consider the words uttered a short time ago by Norman Strouse, national advertising executive.

Mr. Strouse, after several months spent in directing the organization set up by the American Newspaper Publishers Association to inform newspaper readers of the significance and value of a free press, told a California audience: "The free press in America is the last shield of democracy—the last Town Hall on earth! When the present national emergency developed, American newspapers were the medium through which the people of this nation were awakened and brought out of listless low gear to high speed. Censorship, suppression and restraint are the only ways of closing your eyes and ears to what is going on about you. And with a free press you will always have means by which you can live in freedom."

Newspapers are human institutions; sometimes, perhaps, they fall short of the high trust given them. But for the most part, they have kept faith with the people of their communities and the people of America—fighting for the right as they see it; above all, fighting for the right of every American citizen, whatever his views, to hold those views. And in the present emergency this newspaper, with other newspapers throughout the land, will do its bit to tend the flame of liberty. As long as the presses roll, our democracy will endure.

JAPAN IS CROSSED UP—AGAIN

Pro-Axis champions in Japan were struck dumb with pained surprise when Germany, co-signer of the anti-comintern pact, signed a non-aggression pact with Russia two years ago. They were again stunned by the flight to England of Rudolf Hess, whom they regarded as Japan's warmest friend in Berlin. The stock of Japan's pro-German supporters has again slumped. Whenever they get ready to play aces, they find Germany has dealt them jokers.

My Place In The Sun

by DOUG BARRETT

A real credit to the community are the banners put up by the Truckee Public Utility District for the coming Legion affair this weekend. A whole lot of how-kays go to Manager Cecil Edmunds and Directors Hughie Smith, Ben Tonini and "Young Bill" Wilkie for the public-spirited attitude they have shown as officials of the district not only in this but in other community matters. Incidentally, a handful of boo-kays to the Pollack Brothers Circus for littering up Our Town with gaudy but not neat pasters. We have a perfectly legitimate medium of advertising in Truckee and one that would be a lot more effective than trashing up our fair village.

When the great rosy dawn of a common community between Tahoe and Truckee is finally and fully realized, no small amount of credit will be due to the younger generation of high school age and slightly over. The case in point is the high school play held here last Friday night. I spotted a half dozen or more Tahoe young folks up for the performance. There were Annie and Pearl Galliani of Kings Beach, Bill Bechdel of Truckee, and Leatrice Goss was on deck with the nicest head of red I've seen in a long, long time. There were probably one or two more but the play was so absorbing that I didn't have much chance to look around. It was well worth the hike in from Gateway Park.

As a First Voter, I noted with interest that an octogenarian club in New Jersey—claiming a membership of 50 men 80 years old or more—came out in favor of all-out aid to Britain even to the point of war. The brief article did not recite whether or not any of them had volunteered for service in the armed forces.

Off hand notes on hand: "Big Si" Pearson is having his living room repainted... Bill Wilkie believes in doing it the hardware (don't shoot)... Harry Digesti looked very much like Groucho Marx in the senior play... the Harold Harts are mighty nice folks to do business with... Charlie Carrau hasn't been hurt by ranch life. He's just as busy as ever and looks like he's thriving on it... Bob Seibold makes a mighty capable dance chairman... this column gets harder to write ever week

If you haven't seen the new Capitol banquet room yet, don't miss it. Get Johnny Ciardella or the "Mrs." to show you through. It's really a beaut from away back.

"UNREAL REALITIES" IN THIS AMAZING AMERICA

OL' MAN RIVER'S BIRTHPLACE →

The mighty Mississippi, like most typical Americans, had a very modest start in life. Its birthplace, tiny placid Lake Itasca in Minnesota, looks little like the cradle of a giant whose arteries carry the very life blood of the vast Middle Western agricultural district—from fields of corn to fields of cotton.

← SCYTHE IN A TREE

In 1861 when James Johnson went off to war he hung his scythe in the crotch of a tree near Geneva, New York, and said not to move it until he came back. But he never came back and now nobody could move his scythe for it's embedded in the heart of the mammoth tree that's grown around it!

FIORDS INSTEAD OF FORDS →

Where cars once chugged along arid, sandy roads, only submarines and fish could travel today! Boulder Dam, in Nevada, made all the difference—backing up the largest artificial lake in the world, creating fiords that rival Alaska's in beauty, supplying power and light to cities hundreds of miles away, re-drawing the map!

← FORTY MILLION PASSENGERS

More than 40 million trips are made in Greyhound buses during a single year, equivalent to almost a third the population of the entire United States. America is really going places... by Greyhound.

ARMAMENTS UNLIMITED

One year ago the United States began its defense guns. After twelve months of rearmament effort, military and government authorities today believe that America will have to expand that program on a scale vastly surpassing anything the public has yet dreamed of. Whether this nation conveys or not, whether this nation is involved in or not, they foresee a period fraught with dangers to the country's safety that is almost certain to call for doubling, or tripling, the aluminum and synthetic rubber industries, greatly expanding the aircraft plants all over again and increasing still further the number of forging, electric power, electro-metallurgical plants, and building additional steel furnaces and rolling mills. This tremendous industrial expansion cannot be accomplished in a month or a year. The need for it, if America soon stands alone in a hostile totalitarian world, will embark this nation on a course of vast armament production for years to come.

VITAMIN DIPLOMACY

Tanks, guns, and planes aren't the only weapons of war. Vitamins, too, are powerful levers for affecting the course of war, and it's "vitamin diplomacy" that the United States has been using to the full to stiffen

French resistance to renewed German demands. Offers of desperately needed wheat, tea and sugar have been held out to impoverished France if—Marshall Petain's regime will refuse further concessions to Hitler, will hold fast to its fleet, will bar the transit of German troops thru France to Gibraltar and through French Syria to Iraq. But a promise from Marshall Petain's regime may not be worth its weight in tea. The cabinet of the aged hero of Verdun is dominated by rabid Anglophobes, for whom no humiliation of France would be too great a price to pay for the destruction of Britain. Vitamin diplomacy may have come too late to stay the complete surrender of France to the demands of Hitler's government.

CALIFORNIA LOSES A CLAIM

Though admiring her optimism, we can't help feeling California was a little out of step with the trend of the times when, before the U.S. Supreme Court the other day, it sought to institute proceedings to recover $7,477,123 collected—illegally, California says—in Federal taxes in 1866, 1867 and 1868. The Supreme Court denied California's request. With his typically salty wisdom, Mr. Dooley affirmed that the Supreme Court followed the elections. It would be strange if the high court did not also follow the defense program and Uncle Sam's pressing need for cash. Today the Federal government is collecting, not dispersing, and doing so on an enormous scale. Next year, it is authoritatively estimated, Federal tax collectors will present California with a bill for $750,000,000, far more than double the $315,329,000 they collected in 1940. California's 74-year old claim will have to be written off as a loss and charged to experience.

SUMMER CLEANUP MAKES HOME COOLER, CLEANER

A cleaner home will be a cooler home this summer. The house that will continue to look best after Spring housecleaning is the one supervised by a woman who gets herself into a "throw-away" rather than a "save-it" attitude. A clean cellar and attic are essential in the summer months because open windows will cause dust and dirt to fly about in all parts of the house. Discarded clothing and old newspapers and magazines should be thrown out along with empty glass jars, chipped dishes and the score or more of odds and ends that somehow clutter up the house. Make this a spic-and-span summer.

More than 4000 students will be graduated from the University of California campuses at Berkeley, San Francisco and Davis on May 24.

U. S. TRAINS YOUTHS FOR SEA

The United States Maritime Service is meeting the threatened shortage of skilled merchant seamen by training youths who have had no previous seagoing experience. Young American citizens in good physical condition 18 to 23 years of age are being enrolled for a seven months' course of instruction in the duties of the deck, engineers, and stewards departments. Enrollees are paid $21.00 monthly; clothing, food, and quarters are furnished by the Government. The training course qualifies these young men for jobs on American merchant vessels where pay starts at $72.50 a month with food and quarters furnished. For detailed information write to U. S. MARITIME SERVICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

WINGS AMERICA

Remember the day when President Roosevelt electrified the nation by expressing the hope that we would be able to produce 50,000 military airplanes a year? At the time many skeptics said it just couldn't be done.

Well, here are some statistics that ought to interest the people of California, the airplane manufacturing center of the United States:

As of today, the aircraft industry has contracted to build 44,000 warplanes. In addition approximately 3,600 two and four engine bombers are to be constructed under the Knudsen Plan, which calls for final assembly by aircraft manufacturers after as many parts as possible have been produced in plants operated by automobile manufacturing companies.

But this is only part of the story. It is no secret in Washington, under the Lend-Lease law, the total number of planes on order will be increased from the present 44,000 to approximately 80,000!

Just the other day the President made another statement that was of utmost importance to the California aircraft industry. In a letter to Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, the President directed the nation's defense heads to concentrate on the production of heavy bombers.

That this will have a direct effect upon the California industry is obvious, for virtually all our factories are producing bombers. But it's too early to try to estimate just what that effect will be. California plants are working "around the clock" at present. Further expansion may be one answer; or perhaps more utilization of sub-contracting, though the industry today is making every possible use of this production medium.

Speaking of bombers....California is about to produce a new diver bomber—the Vultee Vengeance—that is said to be just about as "hot" as anything that has ever come off an assembly line. Performance figures are military secrets, but the Vengeance, which will go to the British, will have exceptionally high speed, will carry a terrific bomb load and will have extremely heavy fire power.

To speed output of the new dive bomber, Vultee Aircraft and Northrop Aircraft have entered into a licensing agreement under which both companies will produce the ship. Production tooling, we learn, is nearing completion at both plants.
